

Executive Summary: The 2026 Threat Landscape

As digital transformation accelerates, the attack surface for global enterprises has expanded by 40%. Zero-trust architecture is no longer optional.

This document outlines the critical protocols for securing edge devices.

Click anywhere on this page to download the full technical report.

Phishing and Social Engineering Evolution

Modern phishing attacks now utilize AI-driven deepfake audio to bypass standard multi-factor authentication (MFA) prompts.

Employee training must evolve to recognize behavioral anomalies.

Click anywhere on this page to download the full technical report.

Encryption Standards and Post-Quantum Cryptography

With the rise of quantum computing, RSA-2048 is becoming vulnerable.

NIST has finalized the first set of post-quantum encryption standards.

Organizations should begin auditing their long-term data storage today.

Click anywhere on this page to download the full technical report.

Incident Response and Disaster Recovery

The average time to identify a breach in 2025 was 197 days.

An effective Incident Response Plan (IRP) can reduce the total cost of a data breach by over $2.5 million USD.

Click anywhere on this page to download the full technical report.